Company of United States Regulars and Mounted Scouts Will Participate—Richmond Soldiers Will Leave on Morning of July 21.

General orders, covering the movements of the Virginia citizen soldiery, in camp at Gordonsville from July 21 to 26, inclusive, were issued yesterday by Adjutant-General W. W. Sale, in a circular to all regimental and company commanders. The orders, which are as outlined in the order, call for a practical instruction in every duty a soldier should be called upon to perform in actual warfare, including the repelling of night attacks and an encampment of the troops, to be designated as the "Red" and "Blue" forces. The arrival of the troops will be late in the afternoon on Tuesday. Many of the companies will come a great distance. As the various commands detach at the grounds, tents will be pitched and the camp arranged. There will be no routine duty performed, with the exception of guard mount late in the afternoon.

WILL BEGIN WORK

ON WEDNESDAY MORNING
Beginning on Wednesday morning, the volunteer troops will be put through their paces. The work is so arranged that it will be taken in rotation, being first given over to the expected squad drill, followed successively by company, battalion, regimental and brigade operations. The drill periods are from 7:30 A. M. to 9:30 A. M., and 3 P. M. to 4:30 P. M. Regimental parades will be held immediately by guard mount. From 10 to 11 o'clock each morning, a noncommissioned officer's school will be held. The real work will be on July 23, when the Red and Blue forces will clash. The Red will be composed of the First and Second Regiments, and the Blues of the Richmond Light Infantry Battalion and the Fourth Regiment. The two forces will leave camp at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, in full field equipment, and will march out at least five miles, where shelter tents will be pitched, and the commands will bivouac for the night. Each man will cook his individual ration.

MAKE IMAGINARY ATTACK

UPON EACH OF CAMPS
During the night there will be an imaginary attack on each camp, and the two forces will take up defensive positions to protect themselves from the enemy. Early the next morning the forces will strike tents, and move out at 7 o'clock. A situation will be given out, making a consideration of the two forces possible. After the sham battle, the men will return to the manoeuvre camp.

ON THURSDAY, JULY 30, THERE WILL

BE NO REGULAR DRILL. The welcome visit of the paymaster will take place, camp will be broken, and after packing the grounds and inspection, the troops will be sent to their homes.

BECK HEADS LIST AS INDEPENDENT VOTER

Searchers Who Go Over Administrative Board Minutes Find Little Trace of "Big Three."

An interesting development of the Administrative Board campaign yesterday was the compilation of statistics showing how the five incumbent members of the board have voted. The charge having been made that a clique of three men dominated the board and that the other two had but little to say in its affairs, a count was made yesterday from the minutes of the board for a period of one year previous to July 1, 1914. This showed that votes had been taken 2,337 times, and of this number 3,325 were unanimous. The charter requires a recorded vote on all business transacted by the board. No effort was made to segregate the fifty-nine topics on which members of the board differed or to ascertain their relative importance, but the fifty-nine ballots on which the board members were found to be distributed as follows: Mr. Beck having to his credit the largest number of recorded votes, cast against all four of his colleagues.
